LEAVE THAT YOU MIGHT CLEAVE

Comparing the two Scriptures mentioned, we see that it has ; that man should, first of all, leave, forsake and abandon his f to be truly united with his wife. The Lord Jesus says in Mark 1 man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife:" We leaving behind and a forsaking in the natural realm.

But when we think of the spiritual realm what are we to leave says, 'This is a great mystery but I speak concerning Christ a 5:32). These are God's eternal principles. These principles ar walk with God and also our married life. We cannot have the governed our previous lifestyle. any other unconverted sinner. We had Satan as our father in children for we obeyed him. So when the Scripture says, that it refers to our old, unregenerate ways wherein we had the nature and disobedience. In a way, the first Adam is also our father in his carnal nature. Therefore, in a deeper, more meaningful way, the Scriptures show forth is that every child of God must forsake, his old nature, behavior, habits, ways and relationships that were under the control of Satan. John 8:44 says, "Ye are of your father the devil, because ye will do".

Beloved, when we come out of our father's house and leave, we must not bring the old things with us. Some people leave their father's house with some items of furniture, utensils and household goods with them. When we forsake the father's house we must never carry any of the household goods to the father. We must shed and leave behind everything - our old habits, our past secrets, our life-style of old and our earlier behavior behind so that we may inherit and acquire the new things of the kingdom.
