WHEN THE HOLY SPIRIT MOVES

A man of God named Frank Bratleman, in a book called 'Anc' written of the mighty evidence of the spontaneous working Asuza Street Revival. Here is an excerpt from this book:

"The spirit of singing among God's people was like a harp in the midst of His people. In fact it was the very breath of strings or human vocal chords. The notes were wonderful in duration. They were humanly impossible. It was indeed had no pope or hierarchy. We were brethren. We had no Lord Himself was leading. There was no priest class. This later with the apostatizing of the movement. We did not on a level."

This is what the Holy Spirit did at the time of the Pentecost at the condition of the Pentecostal Church today! In some places attend spiritual meetings on frivolous grounds, such as the a platform from where they could address the people. I have with people because they were not given a place of prominence

Asuza Street revival, under the anointing of the Spirit, there was an outburst of praise and worship by the people as they sang praises to the Spirit. But what do we see in many churches today? Instead of singing in the Spirit, the Full-Gospel Churches continue to have trained people lead them in songs of praise, rather than allowing the Spirit to lead and guide them. Some churches have choirs, set for the purpose of worshipping the living God, thus robbing the Holy Spirit of their midst.

When the Holy Ghost began to move in Asuza Street during the revival, there was openness in the people to hear the Spirit of God. There was freedom to convict people of their sins and bring them to a turning unto God in their lives. People cried out in agony of their sinful condition and desired to be changed as soon as possible, bothered whether there was a special platform for them to stand on. Such unimportant, external things that please the ego of man were set aside under the mighty power of God. Furthermore, the author writes:

“Ministers were servants according to the true meaning of the word. They did not honor man after their advantage in terms of education. They set the members in freedom for their God-given gifts. He sets the members in freedom almost continuously. Seeking souls would be found at any time of the night or day. It went on all night and day, the members humbling themselves, seeking God at any time of the day, whether the doors were closed or empty. People came there to meet with God. The continuous meeting went on.”

Let me ask as to how many of you are stirred within after reading this. We seem to be in poor spiritual state today. Nowadays, even people who are hungry for the things of God, cannot give themselves to hear more than two hours, because they have several other impor-
